PRICE FIVE CENTS

CRASH VICTIM FACE CHARGE AS BOOKMAKER

James E. Tawney, 42, 346 W. Middle St., returned home from the hospital Friday to face another result of his auto accident on January 5 on the Fairfield Rd. State police Friday afternoon brought a charge of bookmaking against the local man before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder basing their charge on evidence found in Tawney's car at the time of the crash.

Saturday afternoon, January 5, Tawney was driving about two miles west of here on the Fairfield Rd. when he lost control of his car and it left the highway, smashed through a barbed wire fence and crashed into a tree.

Tawney was removed from the smashed vehicle by the local firemen and taken in the ambulance to the Warner Hospital suffering from severe lacerations of the scalp and face, a sprained neck and contusions of the upper arm and left leg.

State police, called to investigate the crash, said they found evidences of bookmaking scattered about in the wrecked auto and brought the charge as soon as Tawney was discharged from the hospital.

PRAYER WEEK SERVICES TO CLOSE SUNDAY

The Universal Week of Prayer services that opened last Sunday evening will be concluded Sunday evening with a service at 7:45 o'clock in Trinity United Church of Christ. The sermon will be delivered by the Rev. John S. Bishop, associate pastor of the St. James Lutheran Church, on the theme "Prayer and the Family."

The sixth service in the series was held Friday evening in the Prince of Peace Episcopal Church with the rector, the Rev. Harold Westover, conducting the service. There was special music by the church choir under the direction of Neil Justice, minister of music there.

The preacher was the Rev. John W. Vannorsdall, Gettysburg College chaplain, and his theme was "Prayer and One's Enemies."

"Our prayers for our enemies should begin with confession of neglect of the enemies of our day," the speaker said. "We should pray that God preserve us from anger and bitterness and cynicism. We should pray, too, that our enemies stop wronging us for our own sakes and for their sakes, too."

As he opened his sermon, the Rev. Mr. Vannorsdall noted that "having enemies is a primitive sort of thing and we don't have many enemies in that sense. There are people with whom we disagree because they are scoundrels and we don't count them as enemies." He suggested that modern enemies are "the salesman who oversells me, the thief that robs me, the neighbor who litters my property, the lazy worker who robs me of my wages and others by other names, these are my enemies."

The scripture lesson for the evening was read by Dr. Bruce Bugbee, lay reader, from Matthew 5:38-48.

Student Assistant Will Preach Sunday

Karl A. Swartz, student assistant to the pastor at St. James Lutheran Church, will preach Sunday morning at the 8:15 o'clock service on "The Inner Life." The Senior Choir will sing the anthem, "Lauda Anima" by Andrews.

Rev. John S. Bishop, associate pastor, will preach at the 10:45 o'clock service on "Come and See." The Junior Choir will sing "Von Himmel Hoch" by Luther.

The Junior congregation which usually holds a separate service will worship with the adult congregation at this service.

Dale Auchey will speak at a meeting of the Luther League Sunday evening on "The Christian at His Work: In Business."

HEADS STATE GROUP

John L. Griest, New Oxford R. 1, was re-elected president of the Chester White Swine Breeders Association of Pennsylvania and Charles E. Griest, Hanover R. 5, Adams County, was re-elected to the board of directors.

The elections took place at annual business meetings this week at Harrisburg in connection with the Farm Show.

Monday Deadline For Library Dinner

Monday has been set as the deadline for reservations for the annual dinner meeting of the Adams County Public Library to be held at the Hotel Gettysburg at 6:30 o'clock next Thursday evening.

At a brief business session directors will be elected and action taken on proposed amendments to the library's constitution and by-laws.

Joseph Dobransky, rural extension coordinator for the library, will describe plans for the rural library service demonstration project in this county and the chairman for the upcoming capital funds drive will be introduced.

COUNTIANS TO BE ON FLOAT AT INAUGURAL

Adams County's commissioners will appear in the inaugural parade Tuesday in costume.

The three have agreed to appear on the float arranged by the Adams County Civil War Centennial Commission marking the historic nature of the county and the Civil War Battle Anniversary this year.

Commissioner Charles Bender will appear as Abraham Lincoln flanked by Sons of Union Veterans Arthur Warman and Donald Smith. Members of the costumed group representing residents of 1863 listening to Lincoln speak at the dedication of the Gettysburg National Cemetery will be the other two commissioners, E. Donald Scott and Clarence Waybright. Others will be W. Clayton Jester, chairman of the county's Civil War Centennial Commission; O. G. MacPherson, national commander of the Sons of Veterans Reserve; Daniel Skelly, A. W. Butterfield, C. P. Keefer, Mrs. Della Hershey, Mrs. A. W. Butterfield, Mrs. Corvan S. Bryan, Mrs. Donald Garretson, Mrs. Isabella Baird and Mrs. Roy W. Gifford.

The group comprising the Civil War Centennial Commission float will leave the Hotel Gettysburg at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning in a bus donated by William S. Ayre and will travel to the Holiday West Motel where Fred G. Pfeiffer will make up the group preparatory to the appearance on the float.

MOTEL OWNER DIES FRIDAY

Claude Simpson, 71, operator of the Elm Court Motel, died Friday night about 9:30 o'clock at his home on Gettysburg R. 5. In declining health for the last year, he had been under a physician's care but had seemed in usual health Friday and was watching television when he became ill and died.

A native of Iowa Falls, Iowa, he was a son of the late John and Elizabeth (Wilson) Simpson. He operated an auto agency for a number of years in Port Washington, L. I., and then came here 14 years ago and purchased the Elm Court Motel along the Lincoln highway east of here.

His wife, the former Mary Griffin, died several years ago. Surviving are a brother, Ralph Simpson, Dows, Iowa, and a brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Dowling, who resided with him.

Mr. Simpson was a member of the St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church here.

Funeral services Tuesday morning meeting at the Peters Funeral Home at 8 a.m. with a high requiem Mass at 9 a.m. at St. Francis Church, the Rev. Fr. Joseph Kealy officiating. Interment in the church cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Monday from 7 to 9 p.m. with the Rosary at 8 o'clock.

Baby Bees From County Sell Well

Adams County's entries in the 4-H Baby Beef show and sale the Farm Show at Harrisburg received from 32½ to 34 cents a pound for their steers at the sale Friday.

The top price, 34 cents, was paid by Meadow Valley Abattoir for steers of Elizabeth and David Lott, Gettysburg R. D.

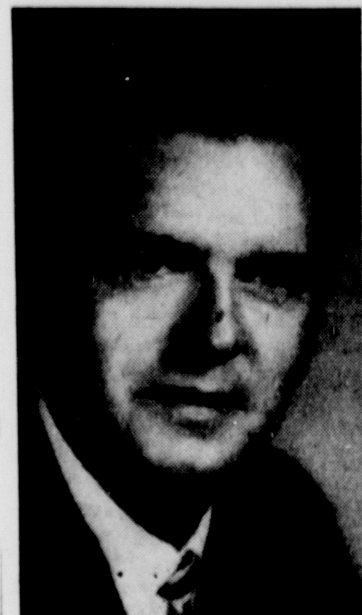

Three steers brought 33½ cents a pound, those of Philip Murren, Hanover R. D., bought by Varsity Diner here; Stephen Murren, Hanover R. 4, bought by Steiner's Meat Market, Hanover, and Donald Lott, Gettysburg R. D., bought by John Peters Sr., Gardners.

Three steers brought 32½ cents a pound. They were those of Steven Slaybaugh, Biglerville R. 41, bought by Cross Brothers, Philadelphia; Ronald Funt, bought by York Springs Meat Market, and David Bair, bought by Bill Miller.

COLLEGE GRAD IS CHOSEN FOR ALUMNI POST

Appointment of Richard E. Walker of Erie, as alumni secretary at Gettysburg College, effective February 1, was announced today by Dr. C. A. Hanson, president of the college, at a meeting of the Alumni Association executive committee in Lancaster.

Walker will succeed Howard B. Maxwell, alumni director at Gettysburg.

RICHARD E. WALKER

Walker came to Gettysburg from 1960 to August, 1962, where he resigned to pursue graduate work at the University of Michigan.

A native of Harrisburg, Walker attended John Harris High School and received his A.B. degree from Gettysburg College in 1957. He also earned credits toward a Master's degree at Bucknell University.

Walker has been owner of a business in Erie since 1958. After graduating from Gettysburg, Walker was employed by

2 INJURED IN CRASH IN FOG

Two persons were injured in auto accidents investigated Friday evening by state police.

The injuries occurred in a crash near Aspers on the Benderville Rd. at 4:05 Friday evening.

State police said John Joseph Brennan, 28, Aspers, was on his way to his home in Aspers and Dorothy Beamer McKinney, 45, was enroute to her home in Benderville when their cars side-swiped on the road about a quarter mile west of Aspers.

Both vehicles were demolished, with the Beamer car estimated at $1,000 and the Brennan car at $100.

Brennan suffered lacerations of the lower lip and was treated by Dr. P. J. McGlynn at Biglerville. Mrs. McKinney suffered a laceration of the right leg and contusions of the right arm and chest. She was removed by ambulance to the Warner Hospital.

No one was injured in an accident at Cross Keys at 5 o'clock Friday evening. State police said Grace C. Steiner, 54, Gettysburg R. 4, was driving north on the Hanover-Carlisle Rd. and drove into the path of an east bound auto being driven on the Lincoln Highway by Mark L. Reynolds, 41, Porters Sideling. Damage was estimated at $300 to each car.

Mercury Dives To 46 Below Zero As New Storm Lashes Eastern Two-Thirds Of U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Winter unleashed a furious attack on the eastern two-thirds of the nation today, sending temperatures in the Plains states plummeting to 46 below zero, burying parts of the Midwest under a heavy snow and shrouding portions of the Northeast in fog.

Only the western third of the country escaped the furious onslaught, which left at least six persons dead, shut down airports, closed highways and caused hazardous driving conditions.

Colorado and Wyoming suffered numbing cold as the mercury dipped to -46 in Laramie, Wyo. In Colorado, a -24 reading in Denver shattered the -15 set Jan. 12 85 years ago. Other Colorado temperatures included -16 in Fort Collins and -15 readings in Grand Junction and Pueblo.

PERISH IN AUTO
The bodies of three children were found Friday in an automobile stalled in a snowdrift about 30 miles south of Grand Junction.

It had not been determined whether they were victims of carbon monoxide poisoning or freezing. The parents were hospitalized for treatment of exposure.

Heavy snows blanketed much of the Midwest, followed in some areas by a freezing rain that made hazardous driving conditions and closed roads. Brisk winds caused considerable drifting, affecting visibility.

Authorities in Kansas City invoked the emergency snow ordinance, which requires chains or snow tires on designated highways. Four inches of snow covered the area, accompanied by a -2 temperature.

POLICE CHIEF SEEKS WORK FOR STUDENTS

Chief of Police Jack Bartlett today was seeking work for the Alpha Chi Rho fraternity, Springs Ave., for "Help Week," February 7, 8 and 9.

The fraternity asked borough officials if there was any work of a community nature they could do during the weekend period as their part of the Gettysburg College Help Week.

Chief Bartlett was designated to find out. He suggested several borough projects but when he sought to work out the details found "red tape" made the projects impossible because of insurance problems involved with use of volunteer nonborough workers and various other requirements.

Then the chief recalled that someone had suggested that perhaps some folks in the town would like to have old sheds removed if they could get someone to do it for free.

A trip through the town also showed that some folk have brush needs to be cleared away.

So the chief is suggesting those ideas to townspeople generally. Anyone residing within the borough limits who would like to have an old dilapidated shed removed or anyone who might like brush cleaned away should contact the police chief before January 25 so he can set up a work schedule for the men from Alpha Chi Rho.

Units of the Adams County Firemen's Association will attend the first quarterly meeting of the Firemen's Association of Southeastern Pennsylvania Thursday evening at Lebanon. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock in the assembly room of Liberty Fire Co. 3, in Liberty Square. Officers of the state association have been asked to discuss plans for the state convention to be held in Lebanon in September.

A panel discussion of "Parents and Children's Marks" will form the program for the meeting of the Fairfield Parent-Teacher Association to be held Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the high school building there. A question period will follow a discussion of the topic by Richard Straup, high school principal, and Robert Reinhold, elementary principal.

The Hoffman Orphanage at Littlestown is bequeathed $1,000 in the will of the late Harry G. Hamme, of North Codorus Twp., York County, filed for probate Friday in York.

4-H Grand Champion Baby Beef Was Purchased From Eisenhower Farm For $132

By JACK LYNCH
HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvania agriculture resumed its midwinter respite today after staging one of its most successful expositions.

The 47th State Farm Show closed on a record note Friday and workmen immediately began to prepare the vast exhibition halls and arena for the inauguration next Tuesday of Gov. elect William W. Scranton.

The 4-H grand champion baby beef sold for a record $4.12 a pound, a penny higher than last year.

An estimated 65,000 visitors on the final day pushed the five-day attendance mark to 690,000, eclipsing the previous record of 680,000 in 1952.

The grand champion steer of the show, also an Angus, was bought for $165 a pound by a Lancaster meat packing company. The 920-pounder was exhibited by William Rishel, 18, York, who also received 77 cents a pound for his 4-H reserve grand champion, a 1,050-pound Angus.

Rishel, who won the national 4-H beef project award at Chicago last fall, paraded his Angus, Lucky, before the buyers first.

PRICE TUMBLES
Auctioneer Abe Diffenbach failed to overcome apparent buyer resistance in a 10-minute harangue and the price fell nearly $2 below the $3.60 paid for the 1962 show champion.

Rishel, whose brother, Edward, received $4,336 for the 1962 4-H champion, was paid a total of $19,200.

PURCHASED FROM IKE
A nationwide restaurant chain, Howard Johnson, bought the 4-H champion for the ninth straight year, paying a total of $3,996.40 to Nancy Werner, 16, Hanover R. 2.

Robert J. Hall, 57, of Buchanan Valley and Gettysburg, died this morning at 4:45 o'clock at the Warner Hospital of complications following surgery. He had been admitted to the hospital December 30 but had been ill for the last five years.

A native of Buchanan Valley, a son of Mrs. Sarah (Brady) Hall, Orrtanna R. 1, Buchanan Valley, and the late J. Edward Hall, he resided in Buchanan Valley but had moved to 116 Carlisle St. last fall for the winter months.

He had served as a supervisor in Franklin Twp. for 12 years and had been vice president of the Adams County Township Supervisors, Auditors, Assessors and Tax Collectors Association for about six years.

Fog slammed a lid on Pennsylvania today grounding planes at three major airports and slowing traffic to a crawl from New Jersey to Ohio.

PROMISE RELIEF
The Weather Bureau forecast relief—at least from the fog—later today, but not until a cold front could move into the state from the north.

There were no weather related fatalities reported, but there were innumerable accidents laid to the fog.

In the Philadelphia suburb of Haddonfield, a train smashed into a car stalled on the tracks. The engineer said he was unable to see a man racing up the tracks trying to warn him.

By sundown Friday major airports at Philadelphia, Harrisburg and Pittsburgh had been closed. At the Harrisburg-York field visibility at 5 p.m. was zero. By 6 p.m. it had been extended to only 320 feet.

The Greater Pittsburgh Airport was closed most of Friday. It opened for takeoffs only in the afternoon, but was closed again after just two hours.

The Pennsylvania Turnpike reduced the speed limit in most areas to 35 miles per hour. A light drizzle combined with the soupy fog to make driving hazardous elsewhere. Temperatures, however, remained mostly above freezing.

HOSPITAL REPORT
Admissions: Lloyd T. Snyder, R. 6; Mrs. Harry Sease, Fairfield; Mrs. Jesse R. Clapsaddle, Littlestown R. 2; Miss Gladys F. Becker, R. 6; Mrs. Earl F. Sanders, Hanover R. 1; Mrs. Ronald R. Messner, Emmitsburg R. 2; Miss Cherry Lynn Houck, Taneytown; Miss Mary Ann Orszag, Emmitsburg R. 1; Miss Jeanne E. Falchetta, St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg.

Discharges: Mrs. Harrison F. Harbach, 650 Fairview Ave.; Paul H. Stonesifer, Littlestown R. 1; Mrs. Duane Johnson, R. 1; Mrs. D. Devilbiss, Taneytown; Harvey V. Whitmore, Detour, Md.; Mrs. Curvin E. Krout, 101 Chambersburg St.; James D. Boyd, Littlestown R. 2; Mrs. Robert J. Dayhoff, R. 1; Mrs. Mary E. Harner, R. 6; Mrs. Ray W. Wagner and infant son, York Springs R. 2.

CORRECT FIGURE
Fairfield school officials called attention today to the fact that the sewage disposal system to be provided with the proposed Fairfield school addition involves a cost of $71,877 instead of $90,000 as was stated in a new story Friday. The smaller sum represents the amount of the low bid for the sewer work.

4TH SERVICE AT FAIRFIELD

The Rev. Edwin Coddington, pastor of Grace Baptist Church, led the worship; the Rev. Gerhard Klaassen, pastor of the Mennonite Church, sang a solo, "Lead Kindly Light," and the Rev. Dr. Roswell W. Lyon of Johnson City, N. Y., delivered the sermon, "The Amazing Gospel" in the fourth "Week of Prayer" service for the Fairfield Community in Zion Lutheran Church, Fairfield, Friday evening.

"It is significant" said Dr. Lyon, "that the Christian life ought to be one of astonishment and amazement but too often the Christian lets gloom overtake him. The people of the New Testament were very much aware of the thrill and glory of God," Dr. Lyon said. He pointed out that the gospel is "amazing because of what it makes people do. It sends people out into life and each day becomes a glorious one."

"Everyone is important in God's plan and no one is without ability. The gospel is also important because it is repeatable and this message has brought new birth, new life, new chances and other forms of encouragement throughout the ages to all men," the Rev. Mr. Lyon said. "The gospel of

100 Americans To Leave Cuba

HAVANA (AP) — An airliner bringing ransom medical supplies to Cuba will return to the United States Sunday with 100 Americans aboard, a Swiss diplomat says.

The plane was due to leave for Havana from Miami, Fla. Friday, he said, but the flight was delayed to give the repatriates time to prepare for the trip.

The Americans had been living in Cuba despite a general repatriation some time ago. The group leaving will include men, women and children, the diplomatic informant said.

There are about 300 Americans registered at the Swiss Embassy, which handles U. S. interests in Cuba. About 170 other Americans are working with Prime Minister Fidel Castro's government.

COUNTY UNDER FOG BLANKET FOR 24 HOURS

Dense fog blanketed Adams County and many surrounding sections from late Friday morning throughout the afternoon and night until brief heavy showers before dawn today reduced the density of the gray mist.

The fog cut traffic to a cautious fraction of the usual volume overnight but state police reported only two minor accidents in which two persons were hurt, neither seriously.

Comparatively warm air and the rapidly melting traces of the last heavy snowfall were blamed for the high humidity and thick fog. Temperatures here Friday night dropped to 35 but turned upward this morning although the sun's rays were cut off by the fog and higher clouds. Rainfall here since Friday morning totaled 66 hundredths of an inch.

5 SURVIVE WHEN NAVY PLANE FALLS

KODIAK, Alaska (AP)—A twin-engine Navy patrol plane carrying a crew of 12 crashed and burned as it approached for a landing Thursday night.

Five survivors were taken to a hospital at Kodiak Naval Air Station. They were reported in serious condition.

The plane, a P2V, was approaching a landing strip at the Navy installation when it hit Womens Mountain, about 1,000 feet high, near the end of the runway.

CRASHED IN RAIN
A Navy spokesman said rain was falling. He said the pilot had not radioed the plane was in trouble.

The base is almost ringed by mountains which rise to about 1,000 feet.

The plane hit in scrub timber about one to two miles from the station.

The plane, based at Whidbey Island Naval Air Station, Wash., was temporarily assigned to the Alaska area. It was on a flight from Anchorage to Kodiak.

Scranton Names Bank Secretary

HARRISBURG (AP) — Governor Scranton named a new banking secretary, but lost his property and supplies chief Thursday, leaving his cabinet still two shy of completion.

G. Allen Patterson, 60, of Pittsburgh, was appointed banking secretary to succeed Robert L. Myers Jr.

At the same time, Thomas K. Gariba, 43, of Allentown who asked Scranton for a cabinet post and got one, withdrew as designated secretary of property and supplies.

Scranton still has to fill the property and supplies post and name a state police commissioner.

In a letter to Scranton, Gariba said he had received some attractive opportunities in private industry.

Patterson is vice president of the Pittsburgh National Bank. He is a native of Dawson, Fayette County.

Hospital Seeking Dismissal Of Suit

The Hanover Hospital, claiming it is immune from civil liability because it is a public charity, has asked the court to dismiss a suit brought by a Hanover mother as the result of the death of her infant boy three years ago.

The hospital was one of five defendants named in the complaint filed by Mrs. Marie J. Geiman, Hanover. She accuses the defendants of negligence and carelessness and contends they are responsible for her child's suffocation in the hospital nursery crib.

The hospital says it cannot be found liable to the plaintiff and requests the court to dismiss the action so far as the hospital is concerned. Another defendant, Dr. S. A. Kirkpatrick, Hanover, has also requested the suit be dismissed as far as he is concerned.

GLENN DUCKS PUBLICITY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Spaceman John H. Glenn Jr. barked Friday at keeping a publicized date to see the Mona Lisa painting by Leonardo da Vinci.

America's first man in orbit looked to slip in quietly at 9 a.m. and see Mona Lisa without attracting a lot of fanfare.

But National Gallery of Art officials, evidently intent on publicity which would boost attendance toward a new record, passed the word to news offices Thursday about the plan.

When Glenn drove up to the museum about a half hour before the general public was scheduled to be admitted, he learned that a crowd of photographers and newsmen was awaiting him near the famous painting. So without leaving his car he drove off.

A red-faced museum official explained to newsmen that Glenn had got "bogged down" in his schedule and would not keep the date, at least not now.

This official, J. Carter Brown, assistant to the director of the museum, was asked:

"Where do you suppose Glenn went when he left here?"

Brown said Glenn proceeded to the Air Museum. Asked what was at the Air Museum more intriguing than Mona, Brown merely shrugged. He said Glenn might come to see the painting later, although he was not sure.

MOSCOW (AP)—Soviet geologists have discovered large oil and gas deposits in the Caspian Sea area of Kazakhstan, Tass news agency reported today.

HONG KONG (AP) —An estimated 700 squatter huts were destroyed and 4,000 people made homeless in this refugee-packed British colony Friday night by a fire that raged for four hours.

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP)—A mere thread of evidence has landed a young burglar in jail.

The youthful thief broke into a neighbor's house. A thread protruding from a drawer he opened caught on a button of his jacket. As he went from room to room the thread unwound from a spool.

Detectives called to investigate the theft followed the thread through a window of the house, out into the street, around a corner and into the boy's home.

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Ali Sabry, chairman of the United Arab Republic Executive Council, arrived here today for talks on the Colombo proposals for a Chinese-Indian border truce.

Sabry told reporters at New Delhi Airport he is hopeful the neutralist proposals drafted at Colombo, Ceylon, will "pave the way for a final settlement through peaceful negotiations."

Ann Shorb, Anna Bushman, Ethel Sprankle and Geneva Sprankle volunteered to help with the post's annual party to be held sometime in the near future. Membership chairman Ann Shorb announced that to date 73 members have paid their 1963 dues. A wheel chair has been ordered from the proceeds of the recent magazine campaign.

Mrs. Virginia Sanders, who represented the unit at the annual Christmas trip to Victor Cullen Hospital, gave a report as follows: Presents were given to 24 veterans and two patients from Emmitsburg. The VFW, American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary make this joint trip each year to the hospital and present the gifts to the veteran patients in person. The draw prize was won by Ann Shorb and Fay Shorer's name was called for the door prize but she was not present. Refreshment committee for next month is Kathleen Shorb, Virginia Sanders and Ann Bushman.

COLLEGE GIVEN

NSF research program will be based upon academic standing and laboratory proficiency in the first three years, as well as interest in pursuing graduate studies in chemistry.

The basic research projects will be carried out in fields in which the participating professors already have made published contributions. Dr. John E. Benson, who will act as the NSF program director, will study the reactions of ethylene molecules on nickel; Dr. Alex T. Rowland will investigate reactions of epoxystereoids; Dr. C. E. Schildknecht will lead research on polymerization of alkyl vinyl ethers.

JERUSALEM, Jordan Sector (AP)—Shops and offices reopened and Jerusalem returned to normal today after a tense general strike against replacement of popular Gov. Amwar Nusseibeh by a non-Palestinian.

Extra security measures continued, however, in case of possible trouble in the Jordanian sector of Jerusalem, divided between Arabs and Israelis.

To back up the government's unpopular decision to replace Nusseibeh, King Hussein paid a surprise visit to Jerusalem Friday night and congratulated the new governor Fadi Dalqamouni, former undersecretary of communications.

MANY 4-H ACTIVITIES ARE LISTED

Plans to hold a meeting January 21 at 8 p.m. in the Catherine Wineman room of St. James Lutheran Church, York St., for all boys and girls over age 16 on the "Pennsylvania Youth Power Congress" are among a number of 4-H club meetings scheduled for the coming month by the county Agricultural Extension Association.

The "Youth Power Congress" session is being sponsored by the Town and Country Business Club of the 4-H and a movie and slides of the work of the congress will be presented. Last year Adams County's selection for the congress, Miss Shirley Bair, was selected to represent Pennsylvania at the National Youth Power Congress at Chicago last April.

Among meetings listed are a session of the county 4-H Dairy Calf Club Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the West St. branch of the Gettysburg National Bank. The same evening, Monday, at 7:30 o'clock, the York-Adams 4-H Tractor Club will reorganize at Sheets Brothers, Hanover.

BABY BEEF CLUB

The county 4-H Baby Beef Club will meet Wednesday evening at the Adams Electric Cooperative building, rear of N. Stratton St. Among other business, the members will vote on insurance, new bylaws and constitution, and the assessment for hauling steers from the Farm Show and Thomasville.

Thursday evening at 8 a cookie sales meeting will be held at Adams Electric Cooperative for leaders and chairmen preparatory to the start of a county-wide cookie sales contest January 19.

January 21, at 7:30 p.m. the 4-H Tractor Club will hold its second meeting at Sheets Brothers, Hanover, with the third meeting, at the same site, to be held January 28 at 7:30 p.m.

PARTIES PLANNED

The Senior Extension Club will hold a roller skating party at the Mary Jane rink near York Springs January 26 at 7:30 p.m.

January 30 at 7:30 p.m. a 4-H leader meeting will be held at the Catherine Wineman room in St. James Lutheran Church. A meeting of First Year Junior leaders will be held at the same time and place. The two groups will jointly take part in a program on "Understanding Youth" to be presented by Mrs. Howard Johnson, Mrs. John Schwartz and Mrs. Robert Strine, local 4-H leaders, who recently attended a conference on understanding youth.

February 2 the county Baby Beef Club will hold a roller skating party at Bankers in Littlestown starting at 7:30 p.m.

Russell Modest At Senate Praise

WASHINGTON (AP)—"One of the greatest statesmen of our times," said Senate Republican leader Everett M. Kirkson.

"Immense dedication to the nation," said Democratic leader Mike Mansfield.

They were speaking in praise Thursday of Sen. Richard B. Russell on his 30 years of continued service in the Senate.

Commented the courtly Georgia Democrat: "The Senate gets very extravagant in its speech."

CROWDED HOSPITAL

HARRISBURG (AP)—Overcrowding has forced the Harrisburg Hospital to restrict admissions to emergency cases only.

The hospital reported Thursday it was filled and beds were being set up in halls. But Harrisburg's other major hospital, the Polyclinic, reported it had 572 patients for 610 available beds. Other area hospitals had seasonal patient loads.

"WHERE DID IT GO?"

Now that I've reached the autumn of life . . . and the lights are flickering low . . . I often think about my youth . . . and wonder, where did it go? . . . it seems like only yesterday . . . since I was just a kid . . . and so I ponder for awhile . . . on the things I did . . . my boyhood chums come into mind . . . those were the good old days . . . now the roads have bended . . . we go our separate ways . . . reverie gives me a glimpse . . . of the loves I've known . . . each one was a rosebud . . . now I've found my own . . . so it is the past parades . . . here inside my heart . . . where did it go, where did it go? . . . why did we have to part.

4-H Grand

$1,518 by Kunzler & Co. for the grand champion and $908.50 by Acme Markets of Philadelphia for the 4-H reserve steer.

Rishel also won the 4-H showmanship award for the third straight year.

Don Shafte, vice president of Howard Johnson Restaurants, was unable to land at the Harrisburg Airport because of poor weather. He flew to Allentown, but couldn't get back to Harrisburg in time for the sale.

PHONES INCREASE

Diffenbach, meantime, had worked the price to $3.40 and stalled. He announced that as the sale price while local Howard Johnson representatives talked with Shafte by phone at Allentown. He authorized payment of the $4.12 a pound.

Miss Werner then handed the halter of her steer to someone and ran across the arena to thank Shafte on the telephone.

"I don't remember what I said or what he said, I'm just so excited. This is the greatest," she blurted.

A junior at Southwestern York High School, Nancy plans to use the money for a college education. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Werner.

AVERAGE PRICE

Average price for the 160 steers sold was 36.3 cents, compared with a market price of about 30 cents for comparable animals.

The grand champion 4-H lamb, a 120-pound Hampshire shown by Fred Hess of Bareville R. 1, Lancaster County, sold for $1.56 a pound, compared with the record high of $2.90 in the 1961 and $1.75 at last year's show.

However, average prices for all lambs were up this year. The 95 animals sold for an average of 34.16 cents a pound, compared with 29.93 cents for 124 animals last year.

The champion lamb was purchased by George's Foodliner of Bethlehem for a total of $171.60.

Other 4-H champions sold as follows:

Hereford, owned by Willis Hackman, Elizabethtown R. 3, Lancaster County, sold at 47 cents a pound to the West Shore Farmers' Market, Lemoyne.

Shorthorn, owned by Donna Hess, Strasburg R. 1, Lancaster County, sold at 35 cents to El Centro restaurant, Harrisburg.

Reserve champion Hereford, owned by Connie Quisenberry, Stewartstown R. 1, York County, sold to George's Foodliner Market, Bethlehem, at 39 cents a pound.

Reserve champion Shorthorn, owned by Richard Rishel (brother of William), sold at 37 cents to Karn's Food Market, Dillsburg.

K-C MEET SUNDAY

The Knights of Columbus will meet Sunday evening at 8 o'clock in the K of C room.

TWO TEACHER POSTS FILLED

The Conewago Township school board accepted two teachers' resignations and elected their replacements at a meeting at the school Thursday night.

The resignations were those of Mrs. Sarah Kilheffer, First Grade instructor, and Mrs. Sandra Dubs, part-time music teacher. Mrs. Dorothy Sheriff, Hanover, was named to succeed Mrs. Dubs, beginning February 1. Miss Karlene Kerchner, West Newton, was named primary teacher for the 1963-64 term. Miss Kerchner is a student at Thiel College and will be graduated in June.

The directors authorized advertising for television sets for three classrooms in order to utilize the mathematics and science programs available on educational TV. Bids must be in the hands of the secretary by 7:30 p.m. January 24.

Principal J. Arthur Wolfe was granted permission to attend an educational convention at Atlantic City, N. J., the week of February 16. Bills totaling $20,472.63 were ordered paid, including the semiannual rental to the building authority of $13,500. The board noted that by action taken March 7, 1961, the rate of commission for taxes collected during the collector's term of office, beginning 1962, were to be two and one-half per cent through the rebate and par periods and five per cent during the penalty period.

ACCUSE SIX OF TAX EVASION

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—Three central Pennsylvania men and their wives have been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of evading income taxes totaling more than $70,000.

The indictments, handed up to Judge Michael H. Sheridan of federal district court Friday, charged:

Mr. and Mrs. George S. Eppley, car dealers of York R. 8, with evading $47,563.32 in taxes in 1957, 1958 and 1959;

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene J. Breighner, operators of a gravel, stone and hauling business at Hanover, with evading $17,497.93 from 1957 through 1960; and

Mr. and Mrs. Emery C. Etter, Chambersburg R. 3, operators of a fruit and vegetable farm, with evading $5,798.20 in 1958 and 1959.

Scattered thunderstorms erupted from Alabama northeastward through North Carolina.

In the West, mostly fair skies were prevalent, but temperatures were cooler than usual. The San Francisco Bay area reported temperatures in the 40s and in the 20s inland.

Special Vote Will Fill Senate Seat

HARRISBURG (AP)—Lt. Gov. John Morgan Davis Friday set Feb. 19 for a special election to fill a state senate vacancy left by the death of Sen. Samuel B. Wolfe, R-Union.

Wolfe, of Lewisburg, represented the 27th district made up of Union, Snyder and Northumberland counties. Wolfe's death last month cut the GOP senate majority to 26-23 over Democrats—the bare constitutional majority required to pass legislation.

The 27th district is heavily Republican in voter registration.

FRESH PORK LURES BUYERS

Fresh pork continued steady today at Farmers' Market with a good selection of ribs, backbone and shoulder roasts at 55 cents a pound, stuffed and loose sausage at 60 cents, ham roasts 60 cents and ham steaks at 80 cents. Scrapie was 30 cents a pound, pig maws 60 cents each and souse 30 cents a square.

Fresh apples continued unchanged at 35 cents to $1.25 in quarter peck and half bushel containers, and local sweet potatoes were down a nickel at 30 cents a quart. Eggs continued at 55 cents and 60 cents and new lard was 15 cents a pound.

Turnips were available in large quantities at 20 cents a quart box and fresh-ground horseradish sold at 25 cents and 50 cents a jar.

Homemade cakes, cookies and pies continued unchanged with angel and devil's food cakes at $1.25 each and cookies at 35 cents a dozen. Pies continued at 15 cents for individual size and 50 cents for family-size fruit and egg custard.

BILLY ESTES WORKS FOR GOD

CLEVELAND (AP)—Billie Sol Estes says he used to spend most of his time "worrying about building an empire" but now is happier because "I have time to work for Christ."

The onetime financial titan said he has not done any wrong intentionally and that he is not worried about his forthcoming federal trial or the possibility of going to jail on a swindling conviction in a Texas court.

Estes is free on $5,000 bond pending appeal of his conviction late last year at Tyler, Tex.

He appeared Thursday night at the Addison Road Church of Christ. The pastor asked Estes to come here after learning the Texas man was in Toledo earlier in the week as a guest of the Rev. Floyd Rose, a friend of Estes.

Estes told a newsmen he felt God had justified him, "and that's all that counts with me."

He goes on trial in a federal court March 11 on charges including mail fraud and conspiracy.

SCORES SPEED IN NEW AUTOS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Traffic Safety Commissioner O. D. (Mike) Shipley says is "burned up" about what he considers increasing emphasis in automobile advertising with regard to speed, acceleration and horsepower.

The state official accused American car manufacturers of "leading the driving public down the road to death and destruction."

In an interview Friday, Shipley said:

"We're getting to the point where we need federal controls on horsepower and speed. It's time Congress stepped into this picture with tight controls."

The outspoken safety expert, who has written several controversial articles on traffic safety for national distribution, was provoked by a series of developments in the auto industry.

The latest development was a recent news dispatch from Monte Carlo quoting a leading American auto manufacturer as saying, in effect, that more speed is needed in today's cars.

"They are placing more advertised horsepower under the hoods of cars today than is needed in the largest tractor-trailer rig we have on the highways of Pennsylvania," Shipley declared.

COMMITTEE TO MEET

The Joint School Committee of the Gettysburg Joint School Board will hold its January meeting at 8 o'clock Monday evening in the conference room of the new Gettysburg Area High School building, according to notices issued by Kenneth G. Reinhart Jr., secretary and business manager.

Guest Conductor Orrtanna

Don McCathren, director of bands for Duquesne University, Pittsburgh, will be guest soloist and conductor for the Bermudian Springs High School Band in its winter concert this evening at 8 o'clock in the school auditorium. Advance notices describe him as "the world's most versatile clarinetist." A 15-piece stage band will present several special numbers this evening under the baton of Gary L. Crum, the band's director. The band members will march next Tuesday in the inaugural parade at Harrisburg.

Walker served as an instructor in aerial navigation in the U.S. Naval Air Force from 1943 to 1946 and was honorably discharged as a lieutenant senior grade.

Active in civic affairs in Erie, Walker is currently president of the Erie Lions Club, the Sales and Marketing Executives Club and chairman of Fairview Township Sewer Authority.

He is a 32nd-degree Mason, a member of Zeta Zeta Shrine in Erie and the Sigma Chi fraternity. He is married to the former Bernice E. Weeks. The couple has three children, Richard Jr., 15; Judy, 13, and David, 8.

Dr. Hyrum M. Smith, a government specialist in guidance, has had a bit of trouble with geography. Smith, on the staff of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, was scheduled to address a college guidance conference at Menomonee, Wis.

He took a plane and arrived in Menomonee, Mich.—240 miles from his destination. Smith chartered a private plane and arrived in Menomonee, Wis., in time for his scheduled appearance.

MRS. LUTHER WETZEL

ORRTANNA—Mrs. Frank Donaldson was hostess to the Margaret Donaldson Bible Class of the Orrtanna Methodist Church for the monthly get-together at her home here Wednesday evening.

The meeting was opened with a short meditation and prayer by Mrs. Donaldson who also presented the scripture reading from Proverbs 13.

The minutes were read by the acting secretary, Mrs. Mary Tressler, and the treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Grace Wetzel. Routine business was transacted.

The devotional readings were as follows: "Be Helpful," Mrs. Ruth Deardorff; "Just Today," Mrs. Grace Wetzel; "My Creed," Mrs. Laura Cease; "To Learn Why," Mrs. Ruth Donaldson; "Memories," Mrs. Helen Rebert; "My Prayer As New Year Begins," Mrs. Tressler.

The Bible study was on Acts 17 under the direction of the teacher, Mrs. Tressler.

The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer. The guest box donated by Mrs. Edith Stonesifer and won by Mrs. Ruth Deardorff netted the class 85 cents.

The next meeting will be held February 12, the place to be announced later.

Mr. and Mrs. John Loucks and daughter, Iva Kay and Eva May, Washington, D. C., visited recently with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyd, and other relatives here.

Dickinson Law Student Nabbed In Pep Pill Case

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP)—A Dickinson College law student faced charges today of violating a provision of Pennsylvania's dangerous drug act which his father helped sponsor in the 1961 legislature.

State police identified the defendant as Hubert Maxwell, 24, son of State Rep. H. J. Maxwell, a Democrat from Monessen, Westmoreland County.

Maxwell and another Dickinson student, Thomas M. Jacks, 21, a senior from Hummelstown, were arrested Friday night following a police raid on a college fraternity house.

$1,500 BAIL

Jacks was charged with selling biphennamine capsules, commonly known as pep pills. Maxwell was accused of possessing the pills, an act made illegal in the bill sponsored and spearheaded by his father.

Both Jacks and the younger

Maxwell were released on $1,500 bond each after a preliminary hearing before Carlisle Justice of the Peace Frank Sweigert.

Capt. Jess Stanton, head of the State Police Detective Bureau in Harrisburg, said 10 capsules of biphennamine were found in Maxwell's room at the fraternity house. Over 100 of the capsules were found on Jacks' possession, Stanton added.

"Yes, that was my son," Rep. Maxwell declared when reached at home by phone Friday night. "But he told me he didn't know anything about the pills."

DENIES POSSESSION

The elder Maxwell claimed his son did not have the tablets in his possession, but that they were lying on his dresser in full view.

"I fought my brains out to get that law passed to protect kids, and I know my son couldn't do what he's accused of," Maxwell said.

Stanton said the arrests climaxed an investigation which followed a complaint by the college that an unidentified student passed out from an overdose of pep pills several weeks ago.

Detective Sgt. George W. Collett, a state police narcotics investigator, made the arrests with the aid of another trooper and two members of the Carlisle police force.

RAP UNION IN PAPER STRIKE

NEW YORK (AP)—A fact-finding panel of judges has strongly censured the leaders of the printers union whose strike has shut down the city's nine major newspapers for 36 days.

The panel's report, released Friday night, termed the walkout "the deliberate design formed by the printers' representatives as the opening gambit in negotiations."

For the first time, city and state mediators will join federal mediators in negotiations, set by Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz for this afternoon.

Although all three committee members signed the report, one filed a supplemental report saying that he failed to find fault with either position and avoided making a "moral judgment on which one had the equities on its side."

Neither representatives of Local 6, International Typographers Union, AFL-CIO, nor the Publishers Association of New York City had immediate comment on the report.

$5.50 TO SEE CLEO

NEW YORK (AP)—The film "Cleopatra" will have the highest box office scale ever set for a movie—a $5.50 top.

The movie—starring Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton and Rex Harrison—will have a simultaneous premiere in 70 cities in the United States and Canada starting June 12, 20th Century-Fox announced Friday.

Driver Safety Course Being Set Up At GHS: Lt. Col. J. M. Sheads, recently returned from a tour of duty with the Seventh Army in Germany, returned to his teaching duties at Gettysburg High School Monday after a military leave of absence of about a year and a half.

His return to work as an instructor in American History freed John O'Brien to set up the school's first course of instruction in auto driving and highway safety.

About 60 upperclassmen who can work the course into their schedules are expected to begin classroom phases of the course by the middle of this month. G. W. Lefever, high school principal, said today he hopes that in the future plans can be made to make the course a required subject for all high school pupils.

Jack Bartlett Is Unanimously Elected Chief Of Police By Borough Council Monday Night: Borough Council, at its first meeting of the new year in the fire engine house Monday night, voted unanimously for the appointment of Jack Bartlett, 100 York St., a corporal in the Pennsylvania State Police attached to the Gettysburg substation, as chief of police here.

The appointment is effective February 15. Bartlett, it was reported, will retire from the state police on February 14. Council fixed his salary at $3,600 per year.

Young Patient Leaves Hospital: Fifteen-year-old Shirley Fridinger, who has been bed-ridden for a year at the Crippled Children's Hospital, Elizabethtown, Pa., is home. A daughter of Mrs. Mary Fridinger and the late Raymond Fridinger, Chambersburg St., she entered the hospital January 7, 1952, for correction of a curvature of the spine. During the past year she underwent two operations.

Miss Fridinger began to walk a little in November and was discharged from the hospital Tuesday. "I can walk a little now," she said, "but I still have to wear a bodyjacket."

When asked what she did to pass the time during the past year, Shirley said she watched television which had been set up in her room, read girl's stories taken to her by her mother and friends, and studied. She also received many letters from people she had never met.

Shirley is one of eight children and is next to the youngest. Her father died last September.

New Church Of Brethren Will Be Dedicated Jan. 25: The congregation of the Gettysburg Church of the Brethren will dedicate its new edifice, two and a half miles north of Gettysburg on the Biglerville Rd., with a special service on Sunday, January 25, at 2:30 p.m. The speaker will be Dr. C. N. Ellis, president of Juniata College and chairman of the General Brotherhood Board.

2 Local Men Are Promoted: Two Gettysburg men have been appointed officers in the Pennsylvania National Guard, the Pennsylvania Department of Military Affairs announced here today.

Robert E. Wentz, 20 E. High St., has been appointed a second lieutenant armor, John I. Donmoyer of Gettysburg R. 2, has been appointed a warrant officer junior grade.

Both men have been assigned to Gettysburg's Howitzer Company of the Second Battalion, 104th Armored Cavalry Regiment. Prior to receiving their appointments, the new officers served with Howitzer Company as sergeant first class and as sergeant, respectively.

Lieutenant Wentz has been assigned as a platoon leader with Mr. Donmoyer taking over the duties of unit administrator.

SPIRES AND BELFRIES

I can share Stevenson's great love for "great churches." He referred to them as his "favorite kind of mountain scenery." And the poet, Edgar A. Guest, once wrote that he would not want to live in a town without its churches.

As a boy, I rang the great bell in the church where my father preached. I was so small I had to give a jump, and hang on to the rope so that the bell might be pulled over far enough to give forth its call to worship! I revelled in the responsibility and a certain glorious glee came over me every time I made that jump. On weekdays, too, I used to climb up to the belfry and there look over the little town in which I lived. A kind of reverence came over me as I did this, I recall, and I understand that feeling now better than I did then.

Probably the grossest crime committed during the last World War was the destruction of those noble and heavenly spires and cathedrals that had, for so many centuries, inspired the hope of human beings.

Whenever I enter a beautiful church I unconsciously feel that no sermon is able to cope with the power of the silent sermon preached by all the beauty that is there about. For beauty in a lovely spire, in windows and architecture, breathes so sincerely the message of unselfishness and service. I like that church in which the worshippers first bow their heads in silence and drink in the spirit of the place.

Henry Ward Beecher once said that you couldn't make a church too beautiful. But in the loveliest of churches no human being should feel alone, nor lonely. Unfortunately this is not always the case — but for no fault of the church itself.

Religion is beauty — and beauty is love! Spires and wonderfully built churches and cathedrals should all convey this.

THE COST

"How much?" he asked, and shook his head.

"A cheaper hat will fit my head."

"How much?" he asked, and turned away.

"For gloves that is too much to pay."

"How much?" he asked, and put it by.

"It costs too much," was his reply.

"Twas merely business good he thought

To know the price before he bought.

Least money wasted he or lost He carefully considered cost.

And many a salesman heard him say:

"That much I can't afford to pay."

But when temptation beckoned him

To gratify some passing whim.

And offered shame in pleasure's guise

This business man so shrewd and wise.

Good judgment to the four winds tossed

And failed to ask about the cost.

Florida visitor, Asa Emerson, Rochester, N. Y., wrote police he had left his hat in a Gettysburg restaurant, along Route 15, but could not recall the name of the restaurant. He added he expected to pass through Gettysburg enroute back from Florida in about two weeks. Police located the hat at the Plaza Restaurant and are holding it for Emerson on his return.

Herb Harris, proprietor of the Dillsburg Dress Company and unpaid author of the column "My Daze" which appears each Wednesday in The Gettysburg Times, was one of the guests at The Times annual employees' dinner at the Hotel Gettysburg Tuesday evening. Herb had a "baby-sitting" (or, so he said) engagement later in the evening and had to leave early (but not until he had been introduced). His mental reactions to the first Times dinner he attended are lucidly set forth in the following piece.

RYFF GAINING AFTER FALLING EIGHT FLOORS

NEW YORK (AP)—Nearly a year after he fell eight floors on a construction job and was "a fraction from death," former lightweight contender Frankie Ryff is waging a tremendous comeback.

"He's coming along," said his wife Marie today, "but he's a long way from being well. Still it's a miracle that he's even living."

Ryff, who will be 30 in April, was working on a building being constructed in Rockefeller Center and training for a second comeback at the time of the accident last Jan. 19.

3-MONTH COMA

"He was in a coma for three months," said Mrs. Ryff. "Doctors told me he was a fraction away from death."

Ryff is being treated at the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation in New York. His wife brings him home weekends to their apartment in suburban Queens.

Frankie can't walk but he can use his right hand. He was a left-hander and the switch took time and patience. Now he can eat with his right hand. He moves around in a wheelchair.

Although his improvement "is miraculous," as his wife says, Ryff has a struggle of many years ahead of him.

"I don't know if he'll be able to ever walk again," said Marie. "The doctors will only say they are hopeful. In any event it will be a long, drawn out affair."

GRAMBLING IS TOP CAGE FIVE

Grambling of Louisiana has taken over the top spot in the Associated Press small college basketball poll, replacing Westminster, Pa.

The Louisiana team, in third place last week although it got the most first place votes, collected three firsts and a total of 54 points in the latest balloting by eight sports writers and broadcasters on the AP's regional board.

Westminster picked up 52½ points while Wittenberg of Ohio fell one notch to third with 48½ points. One selector could not decide between Westminster and Wittenberg and split his first place vote.

The top ten, based on 10 points for first, 9 for second, 8 for third, etc., with first place votes, and won and lost records through Jan. 5:

C. Arthur Brame, 57, Adams County Probation Officer, Expires Early This Morning: C. Arthur Brame, 57, Adams County's probation officer for the last three years and former prothonotary and clerk to the county commissioners, died at 1:45 o'clock this morning at his Straban Twp. home, Gettysburg R. 5, after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage Friday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock while at work in his courthouse office.

Mr. Brame had been in his usual health during the day and had gone to his home along the Lincolnway East for lunch at noon. He became ill while conversing with two state policemen and his secretary, Mrs. S. Richard Eisenhart. Collapsing while leaning over a file, Mr. Brame was assisted to the chair at his desk, then taken to the law library and Dr. David C. Stoner was summoned. Mr. Brame was removed by ambulance a short time later to his home.

Auditors File Reports Here

Franklin Twp. spent $48,133.51 during 1962 and ended the year with a balance of $13,985.93, according to the annual report filed by the township auditors in the office of the clerk of courts.

In addition to its cash balance the township owns machinery valued at $18,000, according to the report. The machinery includes a grader, a new snowplow, a concrete mixer, a tractor, a new truck, an old truck, a "storage shed, a Myers sprayer, five-foot mower and numerous small tools and signs, all used in the maintenance of the township's 65.4 miles of road, 13 wooden bridges and two concrete bridges. Fifty-three and twenty-nine hundredth miles of township road are improved.

The township began the year with a balance of $6,634.03, and income totaled $55,485.41, thus giving the township a total of $62,119.44 for the year. Taxes on township residents and property brought in $18,961.39 to the township's coffers. Liquor taxes provided $1,300. The state paid $278.20 in lieu of taxes on its forestry reserves. Fines provided $3,540. The state gave $26,953.47 to the township and the county gave $4,072.69. Road encroachment permits provided $106. The foreign fire insurance tax, which in turn was paid over to the fire company, was $237.44. The township was paid $20 for work performed by it and received an insurance refund of $16.26.

7-MILL TAX

The $18,961.39 in local taxes included $11,748.34 from the seven-mill real estate levy, $6,713.05 on the per capita tax of $5 on 1,460 residents and $499.80 from the five per cent amusement tax. Taxes outstanding at the end of the year included $1,160.03 on real estate and $2,125.20 per capita.

Expenditures included $2,897.43 for general government including payment of $1,145.21 to the secretary-treasurer, $350 to the supervisors for attendance at meetings and $831.71 to the tax collectors. Highways' work cost $43,820.63 of which $3,253.39 was for snow removal. Miscellaneous expenditures totaled $1,078.02 of which $1,031.62 was for insurance.

Organization of boards was listed as: Supervisors, Clyde W. Hall, chairman; John A. Hall, secretary - treasurer; Raymond D. Hosler, auditors; James P. Orner, chairman; Warren C. Bushey, secretary. Ira Bollman is the assessor and Mrs. Helen Kuhn the tax collector. The auditors set the bond of the township secretary-treasurer at $75,000.

Littletown PLAN BIBLE WORKSHOP

LITTLESTOWN — The first annual Bible Workshop sponsored by St. Paul's Lutheran and St. John's Lutheran Churches will be held Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock in the Junior and Senior High Sunday School departments in the education building. Those attending the sessions are asked to use the parking lot at the side and rear of the church and use the rear entrance.

Two courses entitled "Teaching Children to Know the Bible" and "Teaching Youth and Adults to Know the Bible" will be presented. The courses will include six two-hour sessions held on consecutive Wednesday evenings through February 20. The leaders will be Rev. William C. Karns, Paul E. King, and Rev. and Mrs. Lawrence Roller.

The sessions on the second through sixth weeks will begin at 7:30 o'clock and conclude at 9:30 p.m. The workshop is open to the public.

The purpose of the workshop is to give Sunday School teachers, officers and interested laymen an opportunity to broaden their knowledge of the Bible and how to teach and apply what they learn. Each participant is requested to purchase his own text book at $1.50. There is no registration fee for the course, but a free will offering will be received at each session.

Further information may be obtained from Glenn Unger and Robert DeGroot.

Florida Freeze Under Estimate

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Florida's big citrus freeze of 1962 may not have been so big after all, the U.S. Department of Agriculture says.

The federal agency's January report on the Florida citrus crop Thursday said it was 47.2 million boxes under the December estimate of 163.9 million boxes.

Previous estimate of the loss in the mid-December freeze ranged up to 90 per cent for some varieties.

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)— A Bomarc-B interceptor veered off course and was destroyed Thursday.

The 45-foot missile, with a range of more than 400 miles, did not respond to electronic commands during an attempted interception of a drone aircraft. The test range officer destroyed it.

Wildcat Strikes In Power Stations Crush British In Worst Winter In History

By RAYMOND E. PALMER

LONDON (AP)—Britons shivering through their worst winter in memory faced a dim weekend as wildcat strikes reduced electric power throughout the country.

Unofficial strikers in the country's power generating stations are slowing down on the job. By following every rule in the book, they have slowed operations and reduced the amount of power produced. To share it evenly, the authorities reduced the voltage of supplies.

This brought dimmer electric lights, less heat from electric radiators and odd effects on many of the nation's television screens. Some viewers reported they were getting miniature pictures only two or three inches square. Others found "snatches" all width and very little height. Many reported getting no pictures at all.

THREE MARINES TO GET MEDALS

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Purple Heart medals will be awarded Wednesday to three Marines who were injured by a land mine explosion at the Guantanamo Naval Base in Cuba during the Cuban crisis.

Sgt. Paul Kessler, 27, of Indiana, Pa., and Lance Cpl. Robert E. Mehaffie, 20, of Frederick, Md., are double amputees. Pvt. John S. Turner, 20, of Sharpsburg, Md., lost one leg.

They will be trained to use artificial limbs, given rehabilitation training and discharged. They will be eligible for disability pensions.

A Marine spokesman said Friday the three along with other Marines were resurveying a mine field at the navy base last November when the mine exploded.

Warriors Late Spree Fails As Big Spring Takes 42-41 Verdict; Jayvees Defeated

A gallant second half rally proved futile for the Gettysburg High School cagers who bowed to the unbeaten Big Spring dribblers 42-41 in a Blue Mountain League game Friday evening at Newville.

The Warriors, down 25-14 at half time, battled back to give the fans a nip and tuck thriller at the finish.

As a result of the victory, Big Spring has virtually wrapped up the first half title. The loss dropped the Warriors to third place and wrecked their first half hopes.

Gettysburg had trouble with rebounding throughout the first half and the Bulldogs, who never trailed, got off to an 11-8 lead in the opening quarter and seemed headed for an easy conquest by building an 11-point advantage at half time. Bob Deitz and Johnny Longanacker accounted for 13 of the Warriors' 14 tallies in the first half. The Bulldogs' offense was well-balanced.

Merrill Eckhart's lads began to pick up in the third frame and going into the final period had pared their opponents' margin to 33-27.

SIZZLING FINISH

With 2:15 minutes remaining Deitz, high scorer of the game with 19 points, landed a jump shot to knot the score at 39-39. Tom Phillips put Big Spring back into the lead with a foul. After the Warriors missed a shot, the Bulldogs began a freeze. Phillips drove through for a goal with 15 seconds left and held on to offset a late Warrior tally.

The Warrior reserves also were nipped in the preliminary 42-40 after making a strong finish that nearly pulled the game from the fire. Ronnie Fox and Tony Bushey combined for 19 points for the losers.

Next Wednesday the Warriors will meet Biglerville here in another BML twin bill.

LAKERS WIN 8TH STRAIGHT

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

That Pacific Coast rivalry in the National Basketball Association is turning into a runaway for Los Angeles' streaking Lakers.

Putting on a second half surge Friday night, the Lakers knocked off the San Francisco Warriors 134-129. The victory was the eighth straight for Los Angeles and gave the Lakers a perfect 6-for-6 against San Francisco this season—the Warriors' first on the West Coast.

Elsewhere in the NBA, subs John Havlicek and Frank Ramsey played key roles as the Boston Celtics whipped the Syracuse Nats 134-117, and the Detroit Pistons outlasted the Chicago Zephyrs 116-112.

Wilt Chamberlain broke his own Cow Palace record with 67 points and the Warriors led by as many as 18 points—but the Lakers proved too hot to hold off.

The result boosted the Lakers' Western Division lead to six games over St. Louis and dropped San Francisco to fourth, one-half game behind Detroit.

Lebanon Valley Opposes Bullets Here Tonight

Gettysburg College's basketball teams return to the home floor tonight when they meet Lebanon Valley in a double-header, the freshman game starting at 6:45.

Bob Hulton's Bullet varsity now sports a four-game winning streak and overall an 8-2 mark. Lebanon Valley is 5-3 overall. The Dutchmen have three sharp-shooting stars in Dale Haines 5-10, Thomas Knapp 6-1 and Bill Koch 6-3.

The Bullet Frosh will seek their sixth win in seven starts against the Lebanon Valley jayvees in the preliminary.

"Sprig" Gardner's Bullet wrestlers, winners of their first two engagements, go after win number three this afternoon at Elizabethtown.

Two other Gettysburg teams will be in action this afternoon when the varsity and Freshman swimmers meet Bucknell at Lewisburg.

G-BURG JUNIOR HIGH CAGERS DOWN L-TOWN

The Gettysburg Junior High School dribblers swept both ends of a doubleheader here Friday evening at the expense of Littlestown for their initial victories of the young season.

Coach Don Bickel's varsity shot out to an 18-2 lead in the first period and went on to an easy 43-10 triumph.

Dennis Herring, Kit Richardson and Charlie Raffensperger landed 12, 10 and nine points in leading the Braves' attack. Weaver was high man for the Little Thunderbolts with five.

In the preliminary Coach Bill Cadie's reserves, leading 22-4 at half time, breezed through handily 38-18. Thirteen of the 17 Braves' players broke into the scoring column. Conover dropped through 10 points to be high man for the visitors.

Gettysburg, now 1-1, will meet Waynesboro West on the latter's floor Tuesday evening.

PLAYER LEADS GOLF TOURNEY

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—As seen today by PGA champion Gary Player of South Africa, tournament golf in the United States is a tough way to make a living.

Player led the way into the third round of the $25,000 San Diego Open, and behind him were the finest back-to-back rounds and the lowest score in his brilliant career—65-65-130.

But Player's margin of comfort was just one precarious stroke. As play resumed over the par 35-36-71 Stardust Country Club course, he was 12 shots under par for the route.

His nearest threat was 24-year-old Jacky Cupit of Longview, Tex., whose last big victory was in the Western Open in 1962. He had rounds of 66-65-131.

Tied at 132 were formidable Bill Casper Jr., with 64-68, and Fred Hawkins, with a pair of 66s.

PRO STARS TO CLASH SUNDAY IN GRID FINAL

By DON WEISS

Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—A pair of explosive offenses and head-banging defenses go at each other here Sunday in the 13th annual all-star Pro Bowl of the National Football League with the Western Conference slightly favored because...

well, this guy Lombardi just doesn't lose much anymore.

Vince Lombardi of the two-time champion Green Bay Packers is the head coach of a West squad that seeks its ninth victory and fourth in a row in the series that has become a season-ending fixture at the 100,000-seat Coliseum.

To make sure the winning habit rubs off, the Packer boss has eight of his employees spread among the 33-man Western squad, led by player of the year Jim Taylor, his fullback; quarterback Bart Starr, and three offensive linemen who make his attack go, Jim Ring, Forest Gregg and Jerry Kramer.

They're only stars among many stars and the Eastern Conference, led by coach of the year Allie Sherman of the New York Giants, has a bundle too, including passer Y. A. Tittle of the Giants, a solid band of receivers, and fullback Jim Brown of Cleveland.

But the experts have concluded that a man like Lombardi, who has coached 22 games this season and won 21, must be on a streak. They've decided there's about a field goal's difference between West and East.

The Los Angeles area will be blacked out of the nationwide telecast by the National Broadcasting Company. Kickoff is 4 p.m., EST.

New Oxford strengthened its grip on first place in the Eastern Division of the Adams-Franklin League Friday evening by romping to a 68-41 conquest of Quincy on the Colonials' floor.

Jack Diviny's outfit, winning its seventh game against but one loss, led the entire way. At half-time the score was 32-21. John Harner and Mike Hull looped 16 and 15 points to spearhead the New Oxford offense. Billet dropped through 14 for the Spartans.

Scotland kept its unbeaten league record in tact with a 78-52 decision over Bermudian Friday on the latter's floor.

Bermudian gave the Cadets a struggle in the first half and were behind only 29-25 at halftime but the visitors ran wild in the final two periods to win with ease. Joe Wolf of Bermudian was high point man of the evening with 28 points.

Jim Howard and Tyrrell Parker led Scotland with 27 and 20.

OVERTIME VICTIM

Littlestown High dropped a thriller at James Buchanan in an extra period 58-54. No more than four points separated the teams at anytime and the score changed hands eight times. With seconds remaining in the regulation game Fred Snyder landed a basket for the Bolts to tie the score at 50-50, and send the game into overtime.

Steve Basehor and Fred Snyder netted shots for Littlestown in the extra period but it wasn't enough. Bob Rhodes allying the clinching goal for Buchanan. Littlestown landed 20 goals on 57 shots and Buchanan made 23 of 56. In rebounding Littlestown led 32, Arbogast and Fred Smith fouled out midway in the fourth period which hurt the Bolts. Arbogast and Snyder swished 18 and 17 counters for the losers while Buchanan was led by Dick Heckman and Ron Fisher with 24 and 20.

A goal by Gipe in the last eight seconds of play gave Fannett-Metal a 40-39 triumph at Fairfield in another thriller.

Fairfield was on top 35-32 with about one minute to go and with 40 seconds remaining led 39-38 on Cal Bream's shot before Gipe tossed his fatal shot. Both teams used but five players during the entire game. Bream led all scorers with 18 points while Gipe netted 16 for the Tigers.

Highlights From Farm Show Week

Nitrogen is the element most likely to limit crop production in Pennsylvania, a soil scientist told the Pennsylvania Crop Improvement Association today at the Farm Show.

Dale E. Baker, agronomist with the agricultural experiment station at the Pennsylvania State University, said tests show that fields thought to be suffering from drought are often low in nitrogen.

Speaking primarily on the role of trace elements in crop production, Dr. Baker said boron is the minor element most likely to be lacking in soils. He urged farmers to be on the alert for symptoms of trace element deficiency. He cautioned against adding trace elements where they are not needed. Except where needed studies show, addition of minor elements might result in complete crop failure.

Honey candy recipes, developed at the Pennsylvania State University, give beekeepers a new opportunity to use their products in the nation's $2 billion candy-making business, the state Beekeepers' Association heard today at the Farm Show.

E. J. Anderson, beekeeper for the agricultural experiment station at Penn State, reported he had developed two sets of recipes using honey as the sweetening agent in candy. One set of recipes uses honey, the other honey and maple syrup. He said his studies prove that honey makes an ideal sweetening for candies when used in special recipes.

Poultry manure handling and marketing should be studied carefully before much money is spent in such programs, Herbert C. Jordan, Pennsylvania State University extension poultry specialist, said today in addressing the Farm Show meeting of the Pennsylvania Poultry Federation.

Various methods of poultry manure disposal, he said, have varying degrees of merit. These include lagoons, deep pits, composting, marketing, spreading and incineration. Spreading the manure on the farm near the poultry production operation still seems to be the most profitable disposal method, he said. Poultry manure and litter mixtures seem to be in more popular demand than straight manure.

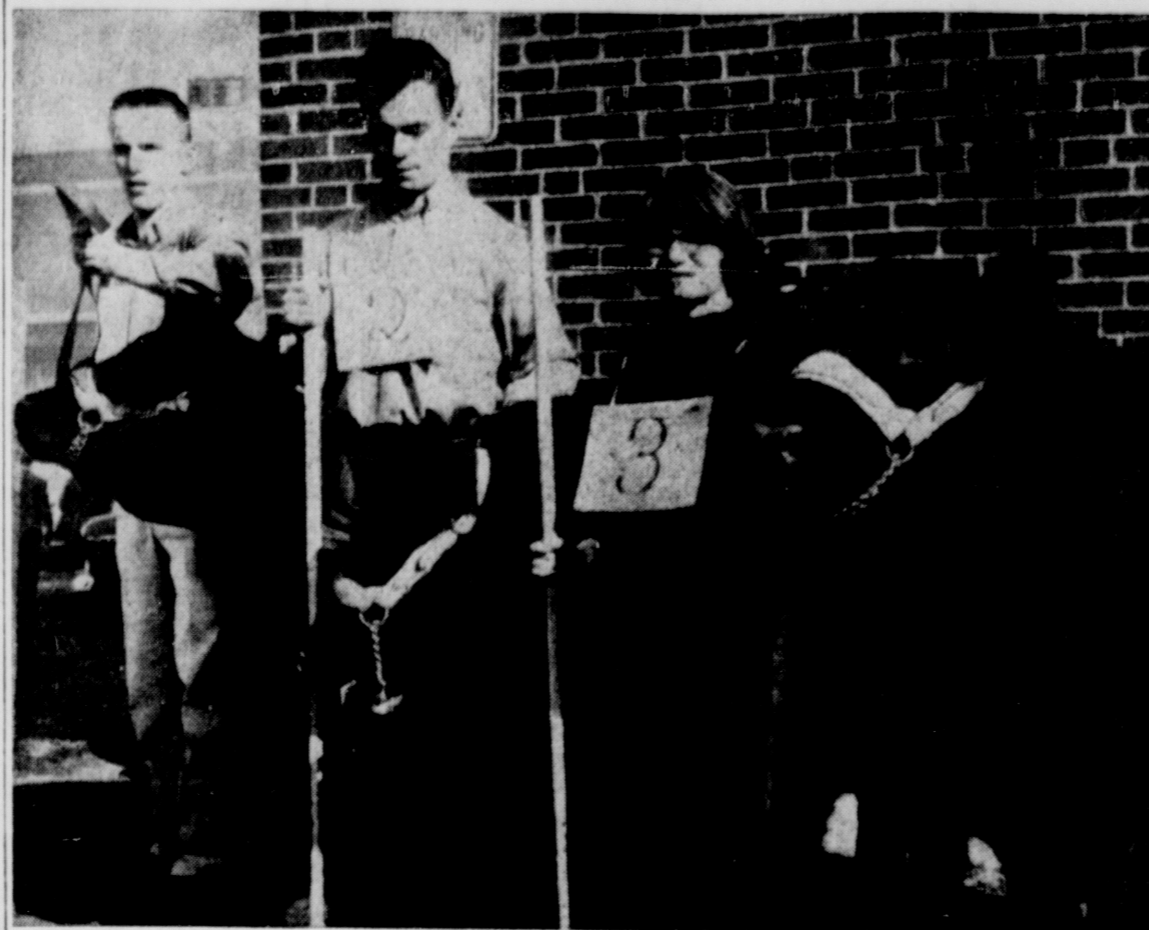

Jordan said returns from a questionnaire sent out to poultry producers indicated limited demand for poultry manure as a fertilizer. It does not compete to advantage with commercial fertilizers, but in some areas, limited consumer demand allows a few people to sell it at a profit.

Research in equipment, feeding and management is enabling broiler growers to market heavier birds, in shorter time, and at less cost than was believed possible only 10 years ago, Ray Lloyd, Newark, Del., today told the state Farm Show meeting of the Pennsylvania Poultry Federation.

Lloyd, associate extension poultryman at the University of Delaware, said the rapid progress being made in broiler performance makes necessary revised growing recommendations in keeping with efficient production.

In 10 years, he said, "This progress has made possible 10 days shorter growing period to produce a bird weighing .63 pound more with .76 pound less feed per pound of gain, with mortality cut in half and with cost of production cut by five cents a pound."

He listed new broiler recommendations on a basis of management research with straight run chicks from commercial hatcheries and by use of commercial broiler feed. Many trials and replications were made, he said, in units large enough to be applicable generally in the broiler industry.

The rapid change from floor plan to cages for laying hens will continue, John Vandervort, Ithaca, N. Y., said today in an address before the Pennsylvania Poultry Federation at the state Farm Show.

Vandervort, poultry specialist with the Cooperative Grange League Federation Exchange and formerly chairman of poultry extension at the Pennsylvania State University, went so far as to predict that "the majority of new poultry houses will be equipped with cages and existing housing will continue to be converted to cages."

Cages, he pointed out, are the better housing arrangement only "for those who like this system of laying flock management." The traditional floor plan may be the more satisfactory system, even though less economical, for poultrymen not yet ready to make

David Bair, 11, Littlestown R. 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theron Bair, is shown with his Hereford steer which won fourth place in the state Farm Show at Harrisburg. the changeover, he indicated.

Infectious bee diseases have been reduced to a small percentage in Pennsylvania apiaries, George B. Slesman, chief of apiculture, state Department of Agriculture, today reported to the Pennsylvania State Beekeepers' Association at their annual Farm Show meeting.

Slesman said the average incidence of American foulbrood, chief bee disease problem, was held to 1.2 per cent in 1962, as shown in checks by 17 state inspectors. They examined 44,059 colonies in 6,122 apiaries in 34 counties. "With your continued cooperation," he told the beemen, "infectious bee diseases can be held to a minimum."

Pennsylvania needs more and better beekeeping, William W. Clarke Jr., extension bee specialist at the Pennsylvania State University, today told the Pennsylvania State Beekeepers' Association at the Farm Show.

Clarke said the state produces about five million pounds of honey and imports from other states about an equal amount.

Pennsylvania bee colony numbers dropped slightly this year to an estimated 144,000. These bees produced slightly under 5,000,000 pounds or an average of about 35 pounds per colony. Some 20,000 apiaries in the state range from one to over 1,000 colonies. Clarke emphasized that beekeeping offers a wonderful opportunity to supplement incomes for part-time farmers and affords healthful outdoor relaxation.

The southern poultry industry was described this week as willing to meet changing demands, which Anthony P. Stemberger of the Pennsylvania State University said makes it "a keen competitor for eastern poultry and egg markets."

"If present day poultry producers are not willing to change and serve a market, some one else with imagination and willingness to change will step in and take over." Dr. Stemberger said at the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Poultry Federation during the Farm Show.

The Penn State marketing researcher said total value of the poultry industry has doubled in the last 10 years in Georgia, North Carolina, Alabama, and Mississippi — the "big four" in the southern poultry industry. In contrast, total value of the Pennsylvania poultry industry declined about 33 per cent in the same period, mostly in value of eggs and farm chicken.

Pennsylvania potato growers can improve their economy and status by paying more attention to producing spuds that come up to the quality expectations of Mrs. Consumer, growers were told at the 47th Farm Show potato industry banquet. More than 400 growers and representatives of allied industries and agencies attended.

Frank Hussey, formerly one of the biggest acreage potato producers in Maine, also told growers they "can't expect the government to bail them out of surplus difficulties every year unless they are ready to adjust production to market demands."

Hussey was called into the U.S. Department of Agriculture by Secretary Orville L. Freeman to take over development of marketing orders and agreements for potatoes. Results of his work are expected to give potato growers of the United States assistance in marketing problems that should provide them with advantages long enjoyed by industry.

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — The government of prosperous neutral Sweden presented to Parliament Friday a balanced 1963-64 budget totaling close to $4 billion with more than $1 billion earmarked for social welfare programs.

Finance Minister Gunnar Strang disclosed that King Gustaf Adolf, a devoted gardener, made $8,400 last year selling produce from his private gardens.

SAYS FEAR OF STATE INCOME TAX BLOCKS CHANGE IN PA.

By FRED WALTERS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The fear of a graduated income tax has blocked efforts to amend the Pennsylvania constitution, Gov. Lawrence said Friday.

But, he said the 88-year-old document should be completely revised. And, he endorses the income tax as the fairest way to meet the financial needs of state government.

These were among the items emphasized by the retiring 73-year-old Democrat in a two-hour interview.

Lawrence sided with those who feel the present state constitution is outmoded and needs to be rewritten, but added:

"It's awful hard. (Unless you can get some people in Pennsylvania, in both parties—I don't think we'd have any trouble in our party—if you can get some people in the Republican party to rise above the pettiness of things.

"Of course, I think as long as this bugaboo of a graduated income tax hangs over them, you'll have all of these big money fellows fighting it.

"That's the trouble. "But that would solve your problem; there isn't any question, gentlemen. It's the fairest kind of taxation; it takes those who are able to pay. It taxes you if you make money—you pay—and if you don't make money, you don't pay."

SCHOOL QUESTION TOUGH

The interviewers noted the demand of educational organizations for additional financial support in amounts estimated up to a quarter of a billion dollars.

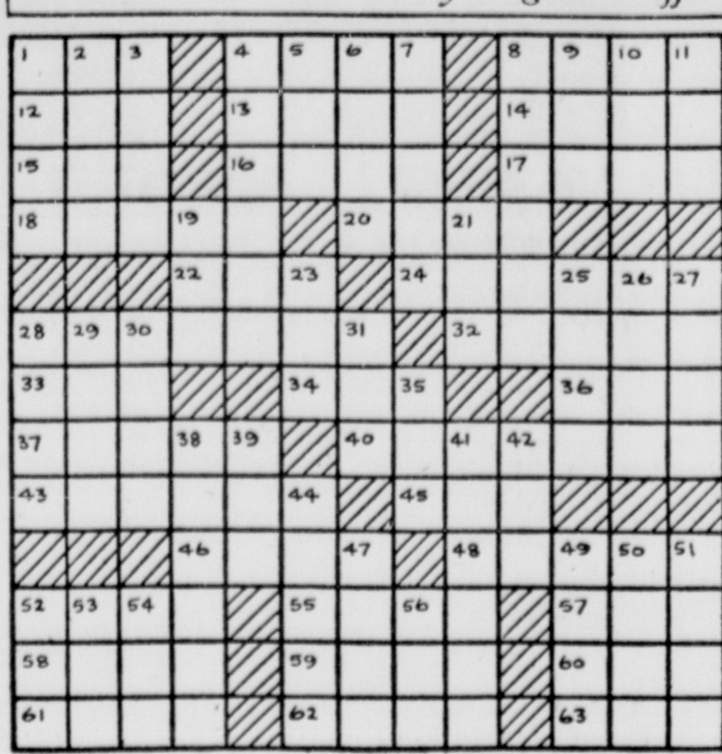

"I don't know how (Gov.-elect) Scranton is going to meet the situation," Lawrence said. "Unless he does something like that (income tax). He's going to have a problem. They're demanding these increases."

"This school question is really a tough one, and you just can't do it with good wishes or a magic wand. You've got to do it with money and they (Republicans) will have to meet it."

CUBAN REBELS ATTACK HOME OF CASTROITES

By GEORGE ARFELD

HAVANA (AP)—A small band of insurgents has attacked the home of a family of ardent supporters of Fidel Castro's revolution and burned down a government store in central Cuba, the newspaper El Mundo reported Friday.

It said one family member was killed and two were wounded.

The newspaper story did not say when the attack occurred. It reported one of the attackers was arrested.

The attack was in the quaint, colonial town of Trinidad on the south coast of the province of Las Villas, about 200 miles from Havana. Las Villas has been the scene of previous counter-revolutionary activities.

FIRED STORE

Coinciding with disclosure of the attack, the government announced that Soviet-built MIG jets of the Cuban Air Force flying over central and western Cuba during the day would break the sound barrier. It warned the population not to be frightened by sonic booms.

El Mundo identified the leaders of the insurgent band as Pedro Gonzalez Sanchez and Jose Tapanes. It did not identify the one patent infringement by the Borg-Warner Corp.

The ruling by Judge Michael L. Igoe upheld a report returned Aug. 13, 1962, by Ralph J. Gutgesell, a special master in chancery.

Judge Igoe also awarded Gutgesell $35,000 in fees to be paid by Borg-Warner.

member of the band who was arrested.

The paper said the insurgents entered the home of Marin Valdivia, whose brothers and sons were members of the revolutionary militia.

It said one of the family members was wounded in the raid. One of his brothers was killed and another wounded when they came to his aid.

After the raid, the paper said, the raiding party set fire to a nearby government-operated country general store.

"The group of criminals is being chased by revolutionary armed forces," the newspaper said.

The Many Lives Of Horace McMahon

By RUTH E. THOMPSON

Which Horace McMahon do you know best?

Maybe it's as the toughly humorous Lt. Mike Parker in ABC-TV's Wednesday night "Naked City" series (10-11 p.m., EST); or maybe, if you're an "old movie" buff, it's as a toughly humorous gangster or other shady-side-of-the-law types he played so often in Hollywood.

I met a few more Horace McMahons I hadn't known existed when I visited the set of the mythical 65th Precinct last Tuesday. (Incidentally, it's a rare moment when McMahon and co-star Paul Burke stay still long enough to be tracked down. "Naked City" is fiendish in its authenticity. Not since the legendary days of the silent pictures have there been so many on-the-level location filmings in New York City. And I testify to this as an eye-witness having lost hours of sleep one night last fall gaping out the window as cast and crew descended on a tandem of restaurants across the street from my apartment).

CAG PRESIDENT

McMahon, I knew, has been serving for the past three years as a most able and active president of the Catholic Actors' Guild . . . but I didn't know what an intergroup favorite he is. Never misses a benefit for the Episcopal Actors' Guild, for example, and while I talked to him he was busily shifting around his January schedule so he could fit in an appearance at a B'Nai Brith activity in Philadelphia.

A marvellous raconteur, he managed to squeeze in 150 such appearances last year in addition to a heavy work schedule. Sometimes it meant three personal appearances in a day (like the time he spoke at a communion breakfast at New York's Waldorf Astoria, flew to Boston for a luncheon, then back to New York for a dinner). Worst of all he sometimes moves so fast he must skip the meal-part of the event entirely. How does he hold up under such rigors? "I just don't think of it in such terms," he says. "I just think how nice of them it is to ask me."

HEALTHY, RELAXED

He certainly looks healthy and relaxed — younger, too, than he photographs; but then doing good things with his life, it turns out, is an old habit of his.

During World War II, it seems, he literally put his own career in mothballs and spent three years touring hospitals entertaining the wounded. His lovely wife, who roots for the benefit activities as much as for his theater and TV acting, herself worked as a hospital volunteer while he was away.

For among the Horace McMahons I met, as you've probably surmised by now, was "Horace McMahon — family man." Item: He still lives in the town where he was born, South Norwalk, Conn., and where his family has lived for generations.

"MOVES AROUND"

Does he by chance, live in the old family homestead?

No. And though he advocates sticking by your home town, he also thinks moving around is a great idea. They don't even live in last year's house. "A house

FINE STORY ON TV JANUARY 16

Three years ago, Poh Lin lived in a Singapore slum. Not only poverty and ignorance oppressed her, Poh Lin who lived on a street aptly called the Death Street, was also deaf and blind. But because she had a remarkable will to live and learn Poh Lin journeyed half way around the world to the Perkins School for the Deaf in Massachusetts. And because English was the language she needed to move out of her world of dark silence, she learned English — a language she could neither hear nor read. Blinded and deafened at the age of 11 by disease, Poh Lin tries desperately to keep communication with the world. Her efforts attracted the attention of the Singapore Association for the blind. Her first teacher was a blind Indian. Next, an Englishman, John Wilson, also sightless, asks Dr. Waterhouse of the famed Perkins School to consider taking the girl on as a pupil. But is it possible? Not only is she deaf and blind. She speaks only Cantonese.

A well-equipped kitchen needs deep mixing bowls, from small to large size. The best of these bowls are narrower at the bottom than they are at the top; a rotary beater should fit fairly snugly into the small size so as to give speediest most efficient action.

Why not? Chromalox Electric Baseboard Heaters take the place of old-fashioned, space-robbing furnaces... fit snugly along your outside walls and heat your entire home. No duct work, no motors, no fans, no pipes... and... no soot, no dust, no fumes, no flames, no drafts! Just clean, carefree comfort.

Chromalox Electric Baseboard Heaters install like ordinary baseboard trim along outside walls. Quick, easy, inexpensive installations... for new homes or home modernizing.

With a thermostat in every room, you have complete temperature control. And you can install electric heat for substantially less than any other heating system that provides comparable comfort. Operating costs will vary, depending on the number of rooms to be heated and the type of construction. We'll be glad to show you how little it will cost to install and operate Chromalox Electric Heat in your home. Just give us a call.

Jane Wyman Plays Variety Of Roles

A variety of characterizations is no innovation for the talented star of ABC-TV's "Jane Wyman Presents."

Her television roles on the series have included newspaperwoman, nun, concert pianist, hotel maid, nurse, housewife, spinster, businesswoman and more.

The only similarity about her betrayals is the excellence of her acting. She was three times nominated for an Academy Award and carried off the Oscar for Johnny Belinda.

Citing preparation of primary importance in delivering a creditable performance, Jane says, "Before doing 'Magnificent Obsession,' I spent a good deal of time with the blind as I did with the deaf for 'Johnny Belinda.' Anything that makes a person different has a marked effect on everything he is and does. I had to observe elderly people quite intensively before I could capture their walk, their posture, their speech and all the other characteristics of older people for 'The Blue Veil.'"

Many Lives

should fit your life smoothly," the McMahons feel. Horace explains:

"Our house really wasn't big enough for our three growing children ('Missy,' 15; Tom, 9, and Katy, 6). The neighbors across the street had a nice big house — too big for them so we swapped and everybody's happy. When the children grow up and move away, I'm sure Louise and I will move to smaller quarters again."

"Louise" McMahon is former actress Louise Campbell. They met in 1936 when the great stage hit "Three Men on a Horse" needed two replacements "Charlie and Audrey." They stayed with the show for 60 weeks, then Paramount lured Louise to Hollywood with a contract, and Horace, though he had no contract, followed her. He landed a job next day and, though he never did sign with any one studio, he made 26 films the first year. They were married in 1938 in Louise's home town, Chicago.

MANY REUNIONS

Though he's lived in the heart of New York City several times in his life (during his student days at Fordham Law School and during each of his Broadway appearances) McMahon says he never really got around town until "Naked City" got hold of him. "Now I could stand on Times Square and direct traffic, for which I'm certainly grateful to Stuart Rosenberg."

Rosenberg, who directed the first "Naked City" episode, asked for McMahon as Mike Parker and they have great back-slapping reunions whenever Rosenberg returns as guest director, and not just because of McMahon's gratitude. They have plenty else to talk about. Rosenberg, it seems, holds a doctor of philosophy degree in Irish literature and McMahon is descended from what he blithely terms "one of the latterday first families to settle in Connecticut, the Irish who migrated to New England shortly before the Civil War."

Ever add finely diced leftover cooked ham to a muffin batter? The muffin recipe used for this should be low in sugar. The ham muffins taste delicious with breakfast eggs.

DIAL DOODLINGS

Wonder if anyone has yet referred to TV gags as stuff that has stood the test of time? A "stooge" for a certain TV comedian explained his job: "Everytime my boss lays an egg, I crackle." . . . After listening to the words of some of those rock 'n' roll songs on the air, Ernest Borgnine observed, "I always thought that the execution of lyric writers should be either improved or hastened. . . . The Beverly Hillbillies show cast an actor in the role of an insomniac but at rehearsal he was missing. They finally found him, sleeping on a chair outside the studio."

After watching the TV musicals you come to the conclusion that many of the gals in TV who have the best lines never says a word. Cat talk eavesdropped at "Mr. Smith Goes To Washington" — "My dear, what a perfectly stunning gown. Didn't they have it in your size?" Tom Poston of "To Tell The Truth" claims he met the ideal couple — the guy's a weight lifter, the girl's a dumb belle — Victor Griffin says everyone knows the story about George Washington throwing a dollar across the river but what hasn't been told is that before it reached the other side it was caught by Jack Benny.

Walter Brennan's wardrobe for "The Real McCoys," now in its sixth year, has cost a total of $35, including cleaning and repairs.

CHATTER

Rehearsals for "Windfall," January 13 Dupont Show of the week (NBC), have been especially serene and wholesome, what with Eddie Albert currently studying yoga and Glynis Johns on a health-food kick. . . . It's going to take "Ben Casey" two episodes to find out who or what hit Glenda Farrell as Martha Morrison in "A Cardinal Act of Mercy," January 14 and 21 on ABC-TV. . . . Siren-voiced (and we mean the air-raid kind) Jerry Colonna, is living a double-life these days. He's taking a hiatus from his real-life role of serious businessman to clown it up again with Bob Hope on Hope's "Twenty-fifth Anniversary" show January 16 (9-10 p.m., NBC). . . . Are you a Saturday golfer or a Sunday golfer? The new "Challenge Golf" series is trying to include you in, either way. Featuring Arnold Palmer as both player and commentator, the hour-long match play will be seen Saturdays at 2:30 p.m. and Sundays at noon on ABC-TV stations. Palmer, one of golf's top money winners, is being teamed with Gary Player, brilliant young pro from South Africa. They'll take on the world's top golfers with a prize fund of $156,000 for 13 contests.

HEY, WHAT ABOUT ME?

Robert Stack, star of ABC's "The Untouchables," reveals that he is fighting a losing battle to maintain his own identity.

"I don't mind too much when a lady who asked for my autograph turned it back to me insisting that I sign my real name — Eliot Ness," Stack confided to interviewer Joe Laitin. "But when I overheard the family butcher say, 'Hey, there goes Eliot Ness' kids' — well, that's going a bit too far."

Nice for lunch: Stuffed eggs, sardines and mixed green salad.
